Entire Body Covered With Watery Pimples Would Scratch Till Blood Came

Providence, R. I., Oct. 15, 1915.

"Some time ago my skin began to break out in little pimples. These filled with water, and when they opened the watery fluid ran out and spread the trouble until my entire body from my face to my feet was covered. The itching was something terrible, and I would scratch tried a prescription and several kinds of salve, but none helped me. After I had suffered this way for about 14 or 15 months I tried Resinol Ointment and Resinol Soap, and the first application relieved me so that I slept that night. In six weeks I was cured." A joint meeting of representatives of all organizations interested in the proposed amendment to the District appropriation bill, providing for taxation of intangible property, will be held at 10 o'clock Monday morning at the rooms of the Board of Trade.

Among the bodies that will be represented are the Board of Trade, Bankers' Association, Chamber of Commerce, Retall Merchants and various citizens' associations. E. F. Colladay, John Poole and John B. Larner will appear for the Board of Trade.

This proposed amendment would increase the assessment on all property now taxed, and would also be extended to include property hitherto untaxed. It is said that it is impossible to tell just where the tax would stop.

The bankers would be hit the hardest, it is alleged, because of a provision taxing them on deposits, loans and other business.

Some of the business bodies of the District have asked for hearings before the conference committee on this amendment, but have not so far been granted one.

It is expected that the meeting of Monday morning will be for the purpose of analyzing the amendment, and pointing

With Representative Green, of Massachusetts, and Buchanan, of Illinois, blocking the progress of the shipping bill and the Webb bill for the promotion of foreign trade, House leaders were compelled to send out the word last night that will bring back absentee members of the House next Tuesday, for the completion of the legislative program.

When the shipping bill was called yesterday, the Massachusetts member made the point of order that Senate amendate point of order that Senate amendate resisted a street-speaking permit to the summer senate the senate amendate the point of order that Senate amendate resisted a street-speaking permit to the summer senate to summitteeman, who is under arrest for speaking on the street without a permit, will demand a trial by jury when his case is brought up in the Police Court next Wednesday morning. E. S. Brashears, his attorney, after a conference with E. Hilton Jackson, who is aiding the defense, made this announcement last night. Assistant Corporation Counsel Roger Whiteford was informed of the action that would be taken, and said that he would oppose the motion.

terday, the Massachusetts member made the point of order that Senate amendments changed its status and required its recommitment to the committee. The point was overruled, and the bill will lie on the table until a quorum is present next week.

Recommendation of the property of the price case is settled, according to Mr. Brashears, although Commissioner Louis Brownlow has promised it reissuance.

Camp Ordway is nearly an army post now. It has a megaphone through which the bugle calls are blown, Sergt. James A. Davis, of Company F, made a galvanized iron megaphone and presented it to Trumpeter Sergt. Henry Loveless, who has had it mounted in "officers' row." The buglers say that with the new device it takes less "steam" to wake the ceamp each morning.

As Capt. J. H. Washburn, of Troop A, was erecting a picket line the other day, Trooper A. D. Gorman, leading a horse, came up and saluted. "Here is a The Colonial Beach dancing pavilion, built out over the water, is a most delightful place for a dancing party. Many hundred young people take advantage of it daily. The bathing at Colonial Beach is safe, women and children being fellow who told him to report to the captain.

Hard work is necessary at camp now. The private has to have as many passes as a German entering England.

Besides that, there are certain hours only during which the showers are open.
In the morning from 10:30 o'clock to non, and in the afternoon from 3:30 to 6 o'clock, the shower bath houses are crowded. This is the story of the trials of one bather. He got the permission of his "top" sergeant, but the sentry would not let him in the bath house. He secured a written pass, but it was refused because it was not approved by the because it was not approved by the adjutant. By the time Capt. F. W. Fullam was found bathing hours were over.

Lieut, D. W. Tastett instead of Capt. H. J. Bryson, is now one of the most feared and most powerful men about the camp. He has been made sanitary inspector. He has the authority to criticise and compel the cleaning up of any kitchen, tent or company street in amp. He causes the men to work in seeping things clean,

In Troop A, two more cavalrymen have been promoted. Corporal Kenneth W. Cugle has been made sergeant, and Henry J. Dean has been promoted fram private to corporal.

John Samanna, Italian, used to be one of many barbers in little city barber shops. Now he is the barber of Battery A. And he is boss of his shop. In a lit-tle khaki tent he has an improvised wooden barber chair, with barber tools, and he does a thriving business, among not only the artillerymen, but among the other soldiers as well.

The officers were surprised the other day to hear a new and more musical officers' call blown. Trumpter Smith, of Company C, is a composer, and he put a few frills on the standard army call.
